

MEETING THE AECT INTERNS

Earl F. Strohbehn Internship

Pauline Muljana is a doctoral student at Old Dominion University in the Instructional Design and Technology program. Her research interest focuses on learning analytics, self-regulated learning, instructional design, as well as the intersections of where these two or three domains meet. Pauline is an active member of AECT, currently serving as the GSA Representative for the Division of Design and Development and the President-Elect of GSA.

Pauline Muljana
Old Dominion University

Lee W. Cochran Internship

Okan Arslan is a PhD candidate in Educational Instructional Technology program at Texas Tech University with a minor degree in Information Systems and Quantitative Sciences. His research interests are educational data mining and learner analytics, social media in professional development, and biosensors in education.

Okan Arslan
Texas Tech University

Lee W. Cochran Internship

Hannah Digges Elliott is a doctoral candidate at Morehead State University with an anticipated graduation date of May 2021. Her capstone focuses on the design of training for instructional designers on the use of motivational interviewing in consultations with subject matter experts. Hannah is currently the GSA Representative to the Systems Thinking & Change Division and the incoming Communications Officer for GSA.

Hannah Digges Elliott
Morehead State University

MEETING THE AECT INTERNS (final)

Lee W. Cochran Internship

Rebeca Peacock is an Assistant Professor at Boise State University and a doctoral student at Idaho State University with an anticipated graduation date of 2022. Her research interests include online teaching and learning strategies, motivation in learning, microcredentials, and academic library instruction. Rebeca currently serves on the Leadership Development Committee.

Rebeca Peacock
Idaho State University

Jenny K. Johnson Internship

Suthanit Wetcho is a Ph. D. Candidate at the Department of Educational Technology and Communications, Chulalongkorn University. He is also a member of the AECT International Division as well as the AECT of THAILAND (AOT) affiliation. Recently his research interests have been linked to Self-Regulation, Socio-Emotional Regulation, CSCL, Emotional Web.

Suthanit Wetcho
Chulalongkorn University, Thailand